

New Luxaflex® Japanese Design Collection

The Luxaflex® made to measure Japanese Design Collection gives you the opportunity for a taste of the orient in your home. The collection offers beautiful Zen-style contemporary Roller Blinds, Panel Track and 250mm Vertical Panels with a sleek, flat appearance made from a unique paper material called 'washi'. 'Washi' literally means 'Japanese paper', and this opaque material has a cloudy finish that allows light through but obscures the view, making it perfect for privacy. It is also laminated on both sides, making it easy to clean.

The Roller Blinds, Panel Track and 250mm Vertical Panels all feature horizontal panel segments intersected with trims in seven unique native wood colours or sleek grey naturally anodized aluminium for a modern look.

The collection includes four types of 'washi' material. Originals is a collection of neutral colours in a variety of subtle designs, ideal for creating a natural look. Washi Extra, a thicker quality Originals material, is also available, designed for use in Panel Track blinds, ensuring a sleek, clean look. For those who prefer something a little brighter, the Colours collection of fresh and bright shades can either be used to create an entire blind, or can be combined with one of the neutral shades from the Originals collection to give a colour accent.

The washi range also includes Woven Washi, a collection of four natural wood shades made out of Japanese paper, designed to bring a natural Zen-like atmosphere to your home.

Panels are the ultimate in oriental style

Hanging from an aluminium track the Japanese Design vertical panels come in 10 configurations allowing even wide windows to be screened effectively. As well as a window covering, Panel Tracks are also ideally suited for use as room dividers.

Choose sleek white panels with a hand made paper veined effect for an ultra contemporary and minimalist look or introduce colour in either one, two or more segments to complement your existing scheme. Alternatively, create a Zen-like home using woven washi panels intersected with natural wooden trims.

Blinds with decorative functionality

Vertical panels with 250 mm width vanes slide horizontally on an aluminium track and are available in all washi colourways. They are perfect as window covering for extra large windows. They can be supplied in single, double or triple panel segments, with either 20mm or 40mm trims.

These 250mm Vertical Panels are an ideal combination of functionality, as the vanes can be tilted; and sleek Japanese good looks, with their standard wooden or aluminium trims.

Ideal for bathrooms and kitchens

These unique segmented roller blinds give the appearance of a series of panels with decorative horizontal trims. Segments can be either 29 or 44 cm deep, and a combination of multiple colours can be used within one blind. This product combines the stylish appearance of the Panel Tracks and 250mm Vertical Panels with the practicality of roller blinds, and, as with the entire Japanese Design collection, they are ideally suited for use in damp areas, such as bathrooms and kitchens.
